Power & Handling

Powered by a 2.0L turbocharged four-cylinder engine with a 48-volt mild hybrid system and a nine-speed automatic transmission, the 2023 Mercedes-Benz C-Class Sedan takes your breath away. It delivers up to 255 horsepower and 295 pound-feet of torque, ultimately getting up to 25 MPG in the city and 35 MPG on the highway. You can choose the trim package that comes with 4MATIC® all-wheel drive (AWD) for added traction and stability to better traverse wet and slippery roads, a must for Chicagoland winters. Impressively, the 2023 Mercedes-Benz C-Class Sedan can go from 0 to 60 MPH in just six seconds.

New to the lineup is the 2023 Mercedes-AMG® C 43 Sedan, the latest addition to the AMG® series. Equipped with the same engine, plus some AMG® enhancements, this model gets up to 402 horsepower, 369 pound-feet of torque, and can go from 0-60 MPH in just 4.6 seconds.

Design

Blending sporty style and more refined elements from those of the 2022 Mercedes-Benz S-Class Sedan model, the 2023 Mercedes-Benz C-Class Sedan has a plethora of driver-centric features to help you feel at home, on the road. Choose between a wide array of interior color options like red and brown. The cabin is clean and free of most knobs and buttons — you can access vehicle controls through the touchscreen. You can also light up the cabin with your favorite shade with the 64-color ambient lighting system.

Technology

A huge focus on innovation is at the forefront of the 2023 Mercedes-Benz C-Class Sedan. You'll find a 12.3-inch driver instrument cluster screen, as well as an 11.9-inch infotainment touchscreen to access Mercedes-Benz exclusive features, apps, the audio system, and much more. The 2023 Mercedes-Benz C-Class Sedan also has a biometric fingerprint system to identify drivers.

If you love listening to music in the car, you'll want to upgrade to the Burmester®* audio system for a surround sound-like listening experience. Also an upgrade, the augmented video navigation system makes in-car navigation more exact and overall helpful. While the 2023 Mercedes-Benz C-Class Sedan comes with a host of driver assistance features, you can add on features like DISTRONIC® adaptive cruise control, evasive steering assist, and active blind spot assist.
